

White Rabbit Candy Recall

Contact: Ron Klein, Program Manager 907-269-7583

DEC is warning people not to eat White Rabbit Candy Health Risk: Melamine Contamination

The Department of Environmental Conservation is warning the public not to eat White Rabbit brand candy in any flavor as it may be contaminated with Melamine. The product has been found in Alaska and removed from retailers' shelves. However DEC is asking consumers to check for this product in their homes.

White Rabbit Creamy Candy is sold in 8 or 16 oz packages. All other flavors of White Rabbit Candy, including Assorted (Chocolate, Coconut, and Coffee), Red Bean, Coffee, Corn, Lychee, Mango and Strawberry are sold in 7 oz. packages. All packaging has a logo of a white rabbit on the front with the words "White Rabbit".

Anyone who feels their health may have been affected by consuming this product, should contact their health providers. No illnesses have been reported to date.

Consumers should discard the product or return it to the retailer where it was purchased. Consumers with questions may contact the company at (650) 697-6633.

For more information on recalls, log onto DEC's website at:
<http://www.dec.state.ak.us/eh/fss/recalls/recallsalerts.htm>

